Western Maryland Closes Passenger Service Here Today

Eighty-four years and fifteen days ago today the first railway passenger train rolled into the Western Maryland station at Gettysburg. This afternoon at four o'clock the last passenger train rolled out of the same station, bound for Baltimore, the last railway passenger run in or out of this historic community.

Unless some unusual circumstance develops Gettysburg will be without railway passenger service on the Western Maryland from now on.

Thursday has been a fateful day in the history of railway passenger service here.

Track laying between New Oxford and Gettysburg for the Western Maryland started on Thursday, June 24, 1858. On Thursday, December 16, 1858 the first Western Maryland passenger train arrived in Gettysburg. On Thursday, November 19, 1863 Abraham Lincoln delivered his immortal Gettysburg address and returned to Washington that same day on a Western Maryland train out of the local station. On Thursday, November 19, 1942 the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania approved the railroad's petition requesting permission to abandon service here. And the last passenger train out of here left at four o'clock today, Thursday, December 31, 1942.

High Officials Here
In Gettysburg for the occasion, marking the abandonment of passenger service were three officials of the Western Maryland. They are Clarence R. Zarfos, assistant to President Charles W. Brown; George R. Haworth, general superintendent and Howard R. Pratt, chief engineer. These three officials arrived here this morning in the general manager's private car attached to the regular train arriving at 10:12 a. m.

On hand, among others, to greet them was Charles W. Myers, Western Maryland agent, who today completes 61 years, seven months and thirteen days service.

Mr. Myers is not only the oldest Western Maryland employee in point of service but his record, according to railway officials "is the best and most unique, not only on the Western Maryland but among all other railroads in the country."

High officials of the Western Maryland told The Gettysburg Times that they know of no other railroad employee in the country who has served as many years in the same location for the same company as has Mr. Myers. "This is an enviable record and one that we are mighty proud of," Mr. Zarfos said.

Mr. Myers will observe his 77th birthday today.

12 Passengers And Guinea Pig Use Final Train

WESTERN MARYLAND Railway's No. 45, the last passenger train over its system from Baltimore to Gettysburg, due in Gettysburg at 10:12 o'clock this morning was ten minutes late.

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer headed a Gettysburg welcoming committee that was on hand when the train arrived. He extended an official welcome to the Western Maryland officials and offered the courtesies of the town to them, as well as his personal services during their stay here.

Twelve passengers were aboard the train when it stopped in Gettysburg. This is more than the average number of passengers the train has carried in many months, perhaps years.

Only a few Gettysburg citizens were at the station when the train arrived in addition to the customary railway employees who are always at the station when the train arrives.

George C. Dorch, of The Baltimore Sun editorial staff, was with the official party in the general manager's private car attached to the regular train.

E. L. Cook, baggage man on the train, had a "special" passenger in his car this morning. It was a month old guinea pig, his new pet.

Private Retraces Grandfather's Trip On W. Md. In 1860s

Eighty years ago Private Samuel P. Luster, of the 29th New Jersey Volunteers, Army of the Potomac, mustered out of Civil war service, came through Gettysburg on his way to his home in Matawan, New Jersey, riding a flatcar of the Western Maryland railway. It was the only available transportation at that time.

This morning, when the last Western Maryland passenger train to make the run between here and Baltimore arrived in Gettysburg, Private Samuel P. Luster, of the 59th General Hospital unit, Fort George G. Meade, stepped from the passenger coach. He is a grandson of the Civil war veteran who made the trip eighty years ago on a flatcar.

Private Luster told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times that he had secured leave from camp to make the trip this morning because he wanted to make the last passenger run on the railroad and he wanted to travel over the same route his grandfather had back in the 1860s.

The World War II soldier said his hobbies were railroads and amateur photography and he spent considerable time taking pictures of the train and, escorted by Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer, toured the battlefield, taking numerous "shots" of the famous Civil war battlefield here.

70 TAX APPEALS HEARD IN COUNTY

Adams county commissioners completed here Wednesday afternoon their schedule of tax appeal hearings, following the triennial assessment in Adams county this fall, and disclosed that only 70 persons from among the more than 25,000 who are assessed asked changes in the values fixed by their township or ward assessors.

In the 70 appeal cases—each of which was taken up individually by the commissioners—51 reductions were granted from the 1943 valuation set by the local assessors; seven who asked cuts had their assessments raised instead, and 10 were continued at the figure named by the assessors involved. Some involved increases and some cuts from the 1942 assessment figures.

Two cases are yet pending and will be decided by the commissioners after they view the properties involved.

All of the appeals but one involved real estate valuations. Only one occupational appeal was received and an adjustment was made there to correct an error on the part of the assessor involved.

The commissioners began their appeal hearings at various points in the county a month ago and finished Wednesday which was set for the hearing of appeals from residents of Straban, Cumberland and Highland townships at the court house.

Eleven of the 34 assessment districts in the county had no appeal cases. That list included Freedom, Conewago and Straban townships and both wards of McSherrystown. In which districts the assessors are graduates of the training school conducted in the fall; East Berlin, both wards of Littlestown, Germany and Latimore townships and Arendtsville.

GIRL HAS SCARLET FEVER
A scarlet fever quarantine has been placed on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Brown, Fairfield R. 1, by William I. Shields, county health officer. Joan, seven-year-old daughter of the Browns, has contracted the disease. She is a pupil in Lower Tract school, Liberty township.

Peace And Blessedness

By ABDEL ROSS WENTZ
President Of The Seminary

THE year through which we have just passed was a year of transition. It carried us all the way from 1941 to 1943. And that is a great distance. The year that we face now will be very different from 1941. The old has gone, the new has come. Much has been achieved, but much more remains to be done.

If war were to cease tomorrow and all our soldiers and sailors were to return at once to their homes and to their former occupations, if all our vast factories were to be converted in a day to peacetime industries, it would be found that during the past two years the world has made more progress in the technical sciences than it made during a whole generation preceding. We have gone far since 1941. The same is true in political and social affairs. We are making tremendous strides forward.

SOMETIMES the price seems high. The old routine in which we were so comfortable has been shattered to bits. We are laid under all kinds of restrictions. In what we eat and drink and wear, in our way of travelling, in our schedule of work and place of occupation, in the manner and amount of our leisure, and in scores of other ways, we are placed under rules and regulations and rationings to which we are not accustomed. We are separated from our sons and brothers, our husbands and sweethearts, and other loved ones. We do not know where they are and we sometimes fear for their safety. Our dollar has shrunk, and all our fine plans for the long future are torn to shreds.

But every real American will keep his chin up. None of us will complain about his lot. We will think of our men at the front. Their hardships and dangers make our restrictions and uncertainties appear ridiculously mild. For their sake we will keep quiet about our puny sacrifices and will help with all our might to pull the nation's load.

WE WILL think of the hundreds of millions in the lands under Hitler's heel who are in unspeakable bondage and daily on the verge of actual starvation. If we do not help, they will perish.

We will think of the consequences we should have to endure if we do not win this war. All the efforts of our fathers and all the gains of American history would be lost.

We will think of the new and better world which we hope to create through our victory in this great struggle. It is something for which future generations will arise and call us blessed.

The more we cheer and the less we complain in 1943, the happier and stronger will be our friends at the front. The harder we work and the more cordially we cooperate, the sooner will peace return.

Let us hope that this new year will bring the end of hostilities and the return to peace. There is good reason now for such a hope. But whether peace among the nations comes this year or is further postponed, we can make the new year of 1943 a year of inner peace and blessedness, a year of real service to the cause of righteousness, and a year of genuine fellowship across land and sea. Then, come what may, God's rich blessing will attend us and all who are ours.

Here And There

FORWARD IN 1943

At the stroke of midnight tonight 1942 passes into history and we enter the new year of 1943.

The road ahead is one of trials and tribulations. It is rough and tough. It will be filled with disappointments, hardships, sacrifices. The going will not be easy. It will be the hardest we have traveled in many years. The fate of our homes, our children, our state, our nation and our lives may be determined during the next twelve months.

Never before in all our history has our nation faced such a perilous task. Yorktown, Teconderoga, Valley Forge, Gettysburg, Chateau-Thierry, Verdun are minuscule compared with the obstacle of Nazism, Fascism and Nipponism we face now.

On wide fronts the world over American fighting men are facing the most treacherous and dangerous enemy we have ever combatted. Never before has such a low price been placed on (Please Turn to Page 7)

Announcement

Because of the steadily rising cost of publishing a daily newspaper, subscriptions to The Gettysburg Times will be slightly increased, effective Friday, January 1, 1943. The new rates will be:

12c per week.

50c per month.

$1.50 per three months.

$3.00 per six months.

$6.00 per year.

3c for single copies.

This slight increase, a matter of approximately two cents per week, only partially meets the vastly increased costs of production and distribution. The Times has long deferred putting an increase into effect hoping that some decreases in production might forestall this announcement. The new rates keep The Times in the lowest bracket in the daily newspaper field. Incidentally, The Times is the last paper in the state to announce an increase in subscription rates. Practically every paper in the state and a vast number in the nation increased their rates many months ago. The Times will continue its complete coverage in local news and the latest developments in state, national, international and World war news.

Bulletins

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—The War Production Board today ordered every newspaper's use of print paper in 1943 cut back to the tonnage used in 1941 to produce its net paid circulation, a formula which reduces nation wide newsprint consumption by an estimated 10 per cent.

Cairo, Dec. 31 (AP)—Documents captured by the British Army in pursuit of Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces show that an Italian unit fought an engagement with Germans near El Alamein, Egypt—by mistake—and won it, British sources with access to the papers said today. The Germans surrendered to the Italians before the mistake was discovered, the documents revealed.

London, Dec. 31 (AP)—The British government today officially deplored Argentina's policy of maintaining diplomatic relations with the Axis.

SOVIETS ADD 13 MORE TOWNS TO DRIVE IN SOUTH

Moscow, Dec. 31 (AP)—The Red Army's offensive southwest of Stalingrad has burst deep into German defenses, carrying Russian forces to the approaches of Elita, in the heart of the Kalmyk steppe, and menacing the entire Nazi Army in the Caucasus, battle-front dispatches reported today.

(By The Associated Press)
The spectre of nightmarish disaster was elched more sharply for Adolf Hitler in the fading hours of 1942 today as Russia's armies swept 13 more towns into the net of their great winter offensive in the south and crushed fierce new German counter-attacks on the middle Don steppes.

British military observers said the Russian drive back through the Kalmyk region in the northeast Caucasus would probably force the Germans to shorten their line of communications by 200 miles with a retreat to the Kuban river.

Holding Action Looms
Observers said the Nazis, already balked in attempts to capture the rich Grozny oil fields in the central Caucasus, were likely to concentrate on holding the Malkop oil center to the northwest.

Red Army headquarters said Russian troops were now driving back across the Terek river in the Grozny sector, and other reports said a German withdrawal from the region was probably already in progress.

Dispatches reported fresh successes for the Red armies on every sector of the 1,000-mile battle line from Rzhhev, northwest of Moscow, to the deep Caucasus.

On the Kalmyk front, Soviet columns fanning out across the bleak steppes that stretch westward from the Volga and Caspian toward the Black Sea were officially credited with a 28-mile advance in capturing Remontovoe, 70 miles southeast of Kotelnikovsky.

Other Soviet forces thrusting toward the Black Sea from Kotelnikovsky, which fell two days ago, were reported to have captured another town, and the Russian newspaper Red Star said a fierce battle was (Please Turn to Page 2)

COURT ACTION LOOMS

Harrisburg, Dec. 31 (AP)—Auditor General F. Clair Ross withheld salary checks today from 500 employees of the Revenue department and Attorney General Claude T. Reno decided on court action in an effort to force the Democratic official to release the checks. Ross' action marked another step in a continuing dispute with Dr. Edward B. Logan, Republican secretary of Revenue, over authority of the two officials.

SUBMITS TO OPERATION

Mrs. Willis Waybright, Mt. Joy township, submitted to a major operation in the Hanover hospital this morning.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent C. Sanders, Steinwehr avenue, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital Wednesday evening.

ARRIVES IN AFRICA

Word has been received here of the arrival in Africa of Pvt. Paul B. Eck, McSherrystown.

Darlan's Successor Ignores 'Politics' In Swift Action

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Algiers, Dec. 31 (AP)—General Henri Honore Giraud, successor to the slain Admiral Jean Darlan as high commissioner of French Africa, announced last night the arrest of 12 persons—including four police officers—in connection with an alleged plot to assassinate Robert Murphy, President Roosevelt's personal representative, and various high French officials.

Giraud, who declined to disclose the names of those arrested, intimated he believed his own life also had been in danger.

Ignores Political Considerations

Asserting that he ignored political considerations in his swift action, General Giraud said he struck at "those who were making trouble behind the front" with only one idea—"to win the war."

He acknowledged that some of those arrested helped the Americans to land in North Africa last month, but said he "ordered the arrest only of those who were acting carelessly."

The police officers arrested, he said, "knew Darlan was going to be murdered and did not warn their superiors."

Marked For Death

Robert Murphy (above), President Roosevelt's minister to French Africa, was marked for assassination together with General Henri Giraud, French high commissioner in North Africa, it was disclosed by Gen. Giraud in announcing the arrest of 12 persons.

COUNTY FIRM ANSWERS SUIT

An answer by the Adams Apple Products corporation at Aspers to the petition of Eugene G. Grab asking dissolution of the corporation was filed at the office of Prothonotary Lee M. Hartman at the court house Wednesday by Franklin R. Bigham, Esq.

The answer states preliminary objections, claims six defects in Grab's petition and alleges the petition failed to state a cause of action. Dismissal of Grab's petition is asked. Grab's petition was filed earlier this month and the citation that followed was made returnable on Monday.

Holiday Schedules

Local banks and some business places will observe a full holiday on Friday, New Year's Day, while offices at the court house also will start the year with a holiday. The draft board offices will be open but rationing board staffs will enjoy a holiday.

Holiday schedules will be in force at the Gettysburg post office. There will be no rural or city deliveries of mail and no window service but the lobby will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The Gettysburg Times will not be published on Friday.

GET MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license has been issued here to Charles Joseph Bunty, McSherrystown, now serving in the U. S. Army at Atlantic City, son of Mrs. Roswell Bunty, McSherrystown, and Kathleen Cecelia Klunk, daughter of Joseph C. Klunk, McSherrystown.

"We've arrested people who helped us land, but we have also arrested those who helped the Germans," the general said at a press conference called hurriedly after rumors of the arrests spread through Algiers. It was reliably reported that only two of those arrested actively aided the Allied landings.

Disregarded Own Safety
Answering a question concerning the assassination plot, announced just six days after Admiral Darlan was shot to death by a 22-year-old French National whose mother lives in Italy, Giraud said:

"It was not a question of myself. I have been wounded too many times already. But it affected others, including Mr. Murphy."

He did not elaborate further, but said "some of my best friends" were included among those arrested.

Asked if the men held would be shot, the general said:

"Don't worry, they won't. I said I would rather prevent than punish. (Please Turn to Page 2)

TWO RED CROSS POSTS FILLED

The executive board of the Adams county chapter of the Red Cross at a special meeting Wednesday evening in the chapter office at the court house ratified the appointments of two important committee chairmen—Radford H. Lippy as chairman of the blood donor committee and Paul Singmaster as disaster relief chairman.

Mr. Lippy will be in charge of making all local arrangements for the monthly visits of a blood donor mobile unit of the Red Cross which will come here for the first time in January. A pint of blood will be taken from adults between the ages of 21 and 60 who volunteer to give blood for the use of the Army and Navy. Canteen and nurses' aide groups will be represented on Mr. Lippy's committee.

The new disaster relief chairman will announce his sub-chairmen in the near future and will conduct his work in close cooperation with the civilian defense officials of the county. Mr. Singmaster has had previous experience in disaster relief work in Canada.

The executive group was told that plans soon can be announced for the new war fund appeal to be launched in March. Some supplies already are ordered and early announcement of the county's quota is expected.

Approval was given to the chapter budget for 1943 as previously approved by the national Red Cross and the War department. It provides for expenditures of $5,420 or about $800 more than the 1942 budget. The increase covers chiefly as a result of the increased volume and cost of home service work in connection with service men.

Committee reports were received with Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chapter chairman, presiding. Others present were Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Miss Anna Reck, Mrs. Milton Remmel, Radford Lippy, Harry L. Snyder, Robert D. Fidler, Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, Miss Reba Adams, Mrs. Monroe Dellinger, Mrs. George Bochner and Mrs. John Mumper.

Bulletins

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—The War Production Board today ordered every newspaper's use of print paper in 1943 cut back to the tonnage used in 1941 to produce its net paid circulation, a formula which reduces nation wide newsprint consumption by an estimated 10 per cent.

Cairo, Dec. 31 (AP)—Documents captured by the British Army in pursuit of Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces show that an Italian unit fought an engagement with Germans near El Alamein, Egypt—by mistake—and won it, British sources with access to the papers said today. The Germans surrendered to the Italians before the mistake was discovered, the documents revealed.

London, Dec. 31 (AP)—The British government today officially deplored Argentina's policy of maintaining diplomatic relations with the Axis.

Darlan's Successor Ignores 'Politics' In Swift Action

By NOLAND NORGAARD

Algiers, Dec. 31 (AP)—General Henri Honore Giraud, successor to the slain Admiral Jean Darlan as high commissioner of French Africa, announced last night the arrest of 12 persons—including four police officers—in connection with an alleged plot to assassinate Robert Murphy, President Roosevelt's personal representative, and various high French officials.

Giraud, who declined to disclose the names of those arrested, intimated he believed his own life also had been in danger.

Ignores Political Considerations

Asserting that he ignored political considerations in his swift action, General Giraud said he struck at "those who were making trouble behind the front" with only one idea—"to win the war."

He acknowledged that some of those arrested helped the Americans to land in North Africa last month, but said he "ordered the arrest only of those who were acting carelessly."

The police officers arrested, he said, "knew Darlan was going to be murdered and did not warn their superiors."

"We've arrested people who helped us land, but we have also arrested those who helped the Germans," the general said at a press conference called hurriedly after rumors of the arrests spread through Algiers. It was reliably reported that only two of those arrested actively aided the Allied landings.

Disregarded Own Safety

Answering a question concerning the assassination plot, announced just six days after Admiral Darlan was shot to death by a 22-year-old French National whose mother lives in Italy, Giraud said:

"It was not a question of myself. I have been wounded too many times already. But it affected others, including Mr. Murphy."

He did not elaborate further, but said "some of my best friends" were included among those arrested.

Asked if the men held would be shot, the general said:

"Don't worry, they won't. I said I would rather prevent than punish. (Please Turn to Page 2)

SOVIETS ADD 13 MORE TOWNS TO DRIVE IN SOUTH

Moscow, Dec. 31 (AP)—The Red Army's offensive southwest of Stalingrad has burst deep into German defenses, carrying Russian forces to the approaches of Elista, in the heart of the Kalmyk steppe, and menacing the entire Nazi Army in the Caucasus, battle-front dispatches reported today.

(By The Associated Press)

The spectre of nightmare disaster was etched more sharply for Adolf Hitler in the fading hours of 1942 today as Russia's armies swept 13 more towns into the net of their great winter offensive in the south and crushed fierce new German counter-attacks on the middle Don steppes.

British military observers said the Russian drive back through the Kalmyk region in the northeast Caucasus would probably force the Germans to shorten their line of communications by 200 miles with a retreat to the Kuban river.

Holding Action Looks

Observers said the Nazis, already balked in attempts to capture the rich Grozny oil fields in the central Caucasus, were likely to concentrate on holding the Maikop oil center to the northwest.

Red Army headquarters said Russian troops were now driving back across the Terek river in the Grozny sector, and other reports said a German withdrawal from the region was probably already in progress.

Dispatches reported fresh successes for the Red armies on every sector of the 1,000-mile battle line from Rzhnev, northwest of Moscow, to the deep Caucasus.

On the Kalmyk front, Soviet columns fanning out across the bleak steppes that stretch westward from the Volga and Caspian toward the Black Sea were officially credited with a 23-mile advance in capturing Remontnoe, 70 miles southeast of Kotelnikovi.

Other Soviet forces thrusting toward the Black Sea from Kotelnikovi, which fell two days ago, were reported to have captured another town, and the Russian newspaper Red Star said a fierce battle was (Please Turn to Page 2)

Robert Murphy (above), President Roosevelt's minister to French Africa, was marked for assassination together with General Henri Giraud, French high commissioner in North Africa, it was disclosed by Gen. Giraud in announcing the arrest of 12 persons.

Marked For Death

Answering a question concerning the assassination plot, announced just six days after Admiral Darlan was shot to death by a 22-year-old French National whose mother lives in Italy, Giraud said:

"It was not a question of myself. I have been wounded too many times already. But it affected others, including Mr. Murphy."

He did not elaborate further, but said "some of my best friends" were included among those arrested.

Asked if the men held would be shot, the general said:

TWO RED CROSS POSTS FILLED

The executive board of the Adams county chapter of the Red Cross at a special meeting Wednesday evening in the chapter office at the court house ratified the appointments of two important committee chairmen—Radford H. Lippy as chairman of the blood donor committee and Paul Singmaster as disaster relief chairman.

Mr. Lippy will be in charge of making all local arrangements for the monthly visits of a blood donor mobile unit of the Red Cross which will come here for the first time in January. A pint of blood will be taken from adults between the ages of 21 and 60 who volunteer to give blood for the use of the Army and Navy. Canteen and nurses' aide groups will be represented on Mr. Lippy's committee.

The new disaster relief chairman will announce his sub-chairmen in the near future and will conduct his work in close cooperation with the civilian defense officials of the county. Mr. Singmaster has had previous experience in disaster relief work in Canada.

The executive group was told that plans soon can be announced for the new war fund appeal to be launched in March. Some supplies already are ordered and early announcement of the county's quota is expected.

Approval was given to the chapter budget for 1943 as previously approved by the national Red Cross and the War department. It provides for expenditures of $5,420 or about $800 more than the 1942 budget. The increase occurs chiefly as a result of the increased volume and cost of home service work in connection with service men.

Committee reports were received with Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chapter chairman, presiding. Others present were Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Miss Anna Reck, Mrs. Milton Remmel, Radford Lippy, Harry L. Snyder, Robert D. Fidler, Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, Miss Reba Adams, Mrs. Monroe Dellinger, Mrs. George Boehner and Mrs. John Mumfer.

Here And There

At the stroke of midnight tonight 1942 passes into history and we enter the new year of 1943.

The road ahead is one of trials and tribulations. It is rough and tough. It will be filled with disappointments, hardships, sacrifices. The going will not be easy. It will be the hardest we have traveled in many years. The fate of our homes, our children, our state, our nation and our lives may be determined during the next twelve months.

Never before in all our history has our nation faced such a perilous task. Yorktown, Ticonderoga, Valley Forge, Gettysburg, Chateau-Thierry, Verdun are minuscule compared with the obstacle of Nazism, Fascism and Nipponism we face now.

On wide fronts the world over American fighting men are facing the most treacherous and dangerous enemy we have ever combatted. Never before has such a low price been placed on (Please Turn to Page 7)

Announcement

Because of the steadily rising cost of publishing a daily newspaper, subscriptions to The Gettysburg Times will be slightly increased, effective Friday, January 1, 1943. The new rates will be:

12c per week.
50c per month.
$1.50 per three months.
$3.00 per six months.
$6.00 per year.

3c for single copies.

This slight increase, a matter of approximately two cents per week, only partially meets the vastly increased costs of production and distribution. The Times has long deferred putting an increase into effect hoping that some decreases in production might forestall this announcement. The new rates keep The Times in the lowest bracket in the daily newspaper field. Incidentally, The Times is the last paper in the state to announce an increase in subscription rates. Practically every paper in the state and a vast number in the nation increased their rates many months ago. The Times will continue its complete coverage in local news and the latest developments in state, national, international and World war news.

COUNTY FIRM ANSWERS SUIT

An answer by the Adams Apple Products corporation at Aspers to the petition of Eugene G. Grab asking dissolution of the corporation was filed at the office of Prothonotary Lee M. Hartman at the court house Wednesday by Franklin R. Bigham, Esq.

The answer states preliminary objections, claims six defects in Grab's petition and alleges the petition failed to state a cause of action. Dismissal of Grab's petition is asked.

Grab's petition was filed earlier this month and the citation that followed was made returnable on Monday.

Holiday Schedules

Local banks and some business places will observe a full holiday on Friday, New Year's Day, while offices at the court house also will start the year with a holiday. The draft board offices will be open but rationing board staffs will enjoy a holiday.

Holiday schedule will be in force at the Gettysburg post office. There will be no rural or city deliveries of mail and no window service but the lobby will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The Gettysburg Times will not be published on Friday.

GIRAUD NABS 12 IN PLOT

You are giving a great deal of importance to something that isn't worth it."

Calls for Unity

Giraud took advantage of the occasion to call for unity of all Frenchmen, including the Fighting French led by General Charles De Gaulle.

"To me, there is but one enemy—that is the Germans," Giraud said. "On the day when all Frenchmen unite, whether they are those serving with General De Gaulle, those who are prisoners of Germany, those in France or those in North Africa—that day we will be shown victory. I told Marshal Petain when I arrived in Vichy on April 29 that France had only one way out of the mess she was in. That was to join America. I say that same thing now."

"What I did yesterday," Giraud said, referring to the arrests, "was merely a question of doing some interior cleaning and it would only be exciting passions to give great importance to a matter which is entirely French. Therefore the names of the arrested are being withheld."

One Idea—Win the War

"I have only one idea—to win the war. For that I must have order without considering in any way the politics of one person or another."

When told that the political situation in North Africa had caused a storm of controversy and asked why Darlan's slayer had been subjected to a summary court martial, which condemned him to quick death, Giraud replied:

"It was certain that the murderer did kill Darlan. I punish murderers in the way they should be punished. There you are."

"I would like to believe that the murder was the work of a lunatic, but such a man must not be led by those with other ideas and perhaps with other plans," Giraud said.

Preventive Measures

"That is why, being in command and having received the commission, I took certain preventive measures in order to prevent a recurrence of such events as the tragic one a week ago. It is better to prevent than to punish."

Referring to Darlan's slayer, the high commissioner said he thought it "pitiful that there should be such a fuss over one man rightfully shot when hundreds of soldiers are killed every day at the front—especially when this young man could have joined the army and gone to fight with the others."

The Algiers press avoided any reference to the arrests. The press conference with the high commissioner was arranged after correspondence had requested information on rumors circulating in the city. The conference was held in a church school building which has been converted into a military office.

Sure of Victory

Turning to the military situation, Giraud said he was "sure of victory, but I believe we all must make the most serious efforts to earn that victory."

Giraud then made the following informal statement:

"Gentlemen of the press, you have a great duty to perform. In your countries you have armies which are to fight, but can only do so when armed in the modern manner. You must say to America that the French Army is waiting impatiently for the equipment which you promised us."

"I saw too frequently in 1940 what it means to fight with antiquated armament against an enemy who has superior arms."

"When I entered Holland with the army I was commanding we had only 31 planes against an enemy with 200. We put up a good show in Holland, but our losses were heavy because we had no anti-aircraft or anti-tank guns."

French Want to Fight

"When I was called to the Meuse I found it even worse. The poor devils there had no modern equipment at all."

"Write that in your newspapers. The French Army wishes to fight. For the past month that has been shown in Tunisia. But we must have as soon as possible planes, tanks, anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns."

"I assure you that from the first soldier to the last that Army will show what it is capable of doing. I think the Allied armies which lent us what little equipment they could. That is only the beginning."

"The real play is about to begin and the actors must be properly equipped."

"There you are. I'm counting on you telling that to America and that the high commissioner of French Africa is above all a soldier who thinks of one thing only—to win the war. Help me to win it."

Giraud was asked if civil officials appointed by Pierre Laval, arch-collaborationist, were still holding their jobs in North Africa. He answered: "I don't think so and one should not believe everything he hears in Algiers."

Germans Took Medals

At the end of the conference, another correspondent asked Giraud why he was not wearing any ribbons signifying decorations. His grim answer was:

"I don't wear my ribbons because the Germans stole them from me. The Germans stole my war crosses and medals. I shall wear none until we are victorious and I enter Metz."

Confederacy — ?

Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 31 (AP)—A defiantly snorted rebel yell came today from Governor Sam Jones, of Louisiana, with a demand the government reverse an edict that the state must collect the new victory tax from pensions paid its few remaining Confederate soldiers.

Jones thundered that if Washington officials consider the state payments to its score of Civil war veterans still alive as remuneration for services received—why, then, sub, they recognize the services as legal and should agree to reinstatement of the South's Confederacy, even pay the Confederates from the federal treasury.

MANY HOMELESS DUE TO FLOODS

(By The Associated Press)

Swirling flood waters in the wake of five-day rains and melting snow left thousands homeless in Pennsylvania today and paralyzed numerous war plants.

One death was reported in the Pittsburgh area which faced its worst flood since the disastrous $200,000,000 St. Patrick's day high waters of 1936.

That steel-making district was listed as the principal danger spot by Governor James' Emergency Disaster committee although it warned further difficulty also may be encountered along the Susquehanna in the central and eastern part of the state.

Committee Chairman G. Albert Stewart, however, predicted most of Pennsylvania will be "reasonably clear of further serious flood danger."

Flood Conditions Improved

"Flood conditions generally are greatly improved this morning," he declared. "The rain and snow have stopped falling and a cold wind is blowing. Many points reported temperatures of freezing or below. The waters have crested at several stations and are approaching crest at all others."

"Some families have left their homes in low lying sections but no serious emergency has been reported to the committee. With the exception of Pittsburgh and a few other sections of western Pennsylvania, it is expected that conditions will be approaching normal by the end of the day."

Muddy waters surged into many streets of Pittsburgh's downtown "Golden Triangle" as a peak of 36.6 feet was reached at the junction of the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, 11.7 feet above flood stage.

Street, rail and bus traffic was badly disrupted with rowboats being used in some areas. The Red Cross said it was caring for 7,500 destitute persons made homeless in Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county alone. Fitz William Worcester, 20, of Wurmthburg, near New Castle, lost his life in swollen slippery Rock creek while canoeing with a friend.

Wide stretches of lowlands were flooded in eastern Pennsylvania and householders had to be evacuated in some communities. Rivers generally were believed cresting throughout the area.

The north branch of the raging Susquehanna reached a stand in the New York headwaters and was falling as far down as Towanda where it crested at 23 feet, seven above flood level. Headquarters of the west branch crested at 11.1 at Clearfield, nearly a foot above flood stage.

Stewart said Williamsport and Sunbury were not entirely out of danger.

Twenty families were evacuated from riverfront sections of Williamsport as the Susquehanna overflowed its banks to reach a stage of 22.9 feet, three feet over flood level.

Herbert A. Tait, 49, instructor in the flood threatened Williamsport Technical Institute, died of a heart attack after hours of labor clearing the school of precision tools.

The river swelled to 17.1 feet, one above flood level, at Sunbury with a crest of 19 forecast. Wilkes-Barre recorded a stage of 27.4 with the local flood control office predicting 30 feet probably in 24 hours. Narrow roads between Kingston and Plymouth was ordered closed as water crept over the highway.

Western Maryland

birthday next March 15th. His seniority rights with the Western Maryland date back to May 18, 1881. He was subject to retirement at the age of 65, eleven years ago, but he has declined to even think of retiring and proposes to "stay in harness many more years."

With the abandonment of W.M. passenger service here locomotives and passenger cars used on the run between Gettysburg and Baltimore will go into war service, an official announced. The locomotives will be sent to the Boston and Maine railway company to replace freight locomotives that are now in service on passenger runs. The Boston and Maine company is short of passenger locomotives.

The coaches used on the local run will be turned into the railway pool for use in transporting troops, a shortage of which now exists.

Freight Center

While passenger service ceases here today Gettysburg remains one of the vital freight centers of the Western Maryland, an official stated. More freight passes through the local yards now than ever before in the history of the company. The Times learned from an authoritative source.

Loss of the passenger service is keenly felt by veteran railway men but local citizens, as in other communities along the run, have long ceased to use the service to any great extent.

There was a time when nine passenger trains arrived in and left Gettysburg every day including several fast, through-trains. There was at one time sleeper and pullman service out of this community and there was an occasion when seven trains arrived in Gettysburg in one day and carried 13,000 passengers.

$60,000 to $24.60

There was a time when passenger revenue totaled $60,000 per month. But that revenue has dwindled to such an extent in recent years that one month the revenue totaled only $24.60.

But, with the advent of the automobile passenger patronage and revenue declined until the company reached the point where its daily loss from this service was too great to warrant continuance. Then, too, the Office of Defense Transportation has ordered curtailment and abandonment of service where revenue no longer justifies its continuance. . . . and the shortage of equipment for troop movements was another reason for requesting permission to discontinue service.

So today the Western Maryland closes its passenger service. The final run was dignified by the presence of high railway officials. And the last train also carried the General Manager's private car.

The crew of the last train included:

Five Japanese Barges Destroyed

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—American Air Forces battered away at Japanese ground installations and barges northwest of Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, the Navy reported today.

In a communique, the Navy said that the air forces had made "several harassing attacks" on enemy installations in the Munda area of New Georgia island, and later destroyed five enemy barges, a large caliber enemy gun, and bombed and strafed float type planes in the Rekata bay area of Santa Isabel island, approximately 150 nautical miles northwest of Henderson airfield on Guadalcanal.

Participating in the repeated attacks were Catalina patrol bombers, Airacobra and Wildcat fighters and Dauntless dive bombers with Wildcat escorts.

The new charge is that of operating a car without the permission of the owner. The warrant was served on him in jail where he is being held in default of bond on a charge of turning out his lights to avoid identification. Five hundred dollars was added to the amount of Patterson's bond. Previously he served jail terms on four summary charges for which he was unable to pay the fines.

SOVIETS ADD 13

raging along the 42-mile rail line from Kotelnikowski to Zimovniki. Front-line reports said the Russians had driven past the station of Semichnaya, 15 miles southwest of Kotelnikowski.

Hitler's field headquarters, still ignoring the fall of Kotelnikowski, acknowledged that the Red Armies had attacked from all sides against Velikie Lukki, key rail hub only 90 miles from the Latvian frontier, but declared the assaults broke down under counter-fire by the German garrison.

Velikie Lukki lies at the tip of the westernmost Russian salient from Moscow.

Reds Use Flank Attack

On the middle Don steppe, where the Russians are driving toward Rostov, the German high command threw masses of infantry and tanks into the struggle.

"At first they succeeded in pressing back our units," Soviet headquarters said.

"Then Red army men struck a flanking blow and forced the enemy to retreat in disorder."

The locale was not specified, but the most dangerously threatened area was at Millerovo, 120 miles north of Rostov, where Russian troops yesterday were reported only two miles from the city at the nearest point.

On the Moscow front, west of Rzhnev, waves of German shock troops launched a series of 10 attacks, but each time were driven back with heavy losses and left 500 dead on the battlefield, the Soviet command reported.

North Africa Has "Uneasy Lull"

Overshadowed by the vast Russian offensive, the campaign in North Africa was still marked by an uneasy lull, amid signs that the hour of showdown was approaching.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Tunisia said that with the cessation of rain on the southern sector of the Tunis-Bizerte zone, the Germans were moving up armored forces below Pont-Du-Fahs, 30 miles south of Tunis.

The German strategy here evidently was aimed at preventing French and American troops from knifing through to the Gulf of Gabes coast and thus cutting off the vital line of Axis communications between Tunisia and Tripolitania.

Reuters said French troops around Pont-Du-Fahs—described in other dispatches as ill-equipped with armor—had fallen back and established new lines on higher ground where the Nazi mechanized forces could not operate.

8th Army in Contact

An Italian communique said the Allies had been forced to yield several positions.

On the Libyan flank, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters reported that vanguards of the British 8th army continued "in contact" with Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps west of Wadi Bel El Chebir, 180 miles east of Tripoli, while RAF fighters shot down eight Nazi Messerschmitts over the battlefield.

As the year's last hours ran out in Europe and the United States, American troops in the Buna area of New Guinea were already fighting in 1943, and it appeared that here, too, the last hours of Japanese resistance were running out.

Allies Drive Path To Sea At Buna

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that Allied troops had breached the thinning Japanese defense lines east of Buna village and driven a wedge to the sea, while the remaining enemy strongholds were being hammered fiercely by land and aerial assault.

"The enemy is being forced into an ever narrowing sector," Gen. MacArthur announced.

"On the left, our troops have driven their wedge to the sea and split the enemy defense zones. On the right, an attack with tanks broadened and deepened the wedge, capturing much equipment."

Mr. Business Man Can Expect Fewer Questionnaires In 1943

By JACK BELL

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP)—Happy New Year, Mr. Business Man, and here's news that may warm the cockles of your heart a couple of days ahead of time:

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), predicted Monday that business men and others would be assailed with 50 per cent fewer questionnaires and government orders in 1943 because of a Congressional campaign against such "nuisances," as he described them.

"The quizz boys have got the quakes," the Michigan Senator told reporters. "The reform started by the Byrd committee has just been born, but the questionnaire compilers are under notice now that they have to justify their questions hereafter and they couldn't do that in one case out of 15 heretofore."

Something Accomplished

Vandenberg who started the drive against unnecessary government questionnaires said he thought a great deal had been accomplished through an order issued by Budget Director Harold Smith requiring

Budget Bureau clearance of all such inquiries before they are fired broadside at the public.

This order was issued as the result of an investigation by the committee on non-essential Federal expenditures, headed by Senator Byrd (D-Va.) and numbering Smith among its members.

As evidence, however, that there was still work to be done, Vandenberg displayed a War Production Board order which had been relayed to him by a Michigan business man.

The order, headed "revocation of priorities regulation 10," read:

Part 944—Regulations applicable to the operation of the priorities system (revocation of priorities regulation 10).

"Section 944-31 priorities regulation 10 establishing the allocation classification system is hereby revoked."

(P. D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F. R. 6680; W. P. B. Reg. 1, 7 F. R. 561; E. O. 9024, 7 F. R. 329; E. O. 9040, 7 F. R. 527; E. O. 9125, 7 F. R. 2719; Sec. 2 (A), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.)

"Issued this 5th day of November, 1942."

Across the bottom of the sheet, the harried business man had penned: "For God's sake, what does this mean? No speaka da English."

Vandenberg said he didn't know what it was all about but at the War Production Board it was explained this was an order wiping out an intricate code of symbols by which it had been intended to trace to its final use all of the materials and supplies produced in the country. Theoretically, ore produced in a mine would thus be traced to its final form of steel in a tank.

The system was wiped out, the board said, to eliminate a burdensome task on business men.

Warmerdam, Stratospheric Pole Vaulter, Awarded James E. Sullivan Trophy

RECEIVES 1101 VOTES FROM 600 SPORTS LEADERS

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—Step up—away up—and meet the 1942 winner of the James E. Sullivan memorial trophy. He's stratospheric Cornelius Warmerdam, the California pole vaulter who put the world record where his rivals couldn't reach it without the help of a P-38.

Winning the award, given by the Amateur Athletic Union to the athlete selected as the one doing the most to advance the cause of sportsmanship each year, was as easy for the 27-year-old Piedmont, Calif., school teacher as clearing 15 feet in his favorite event.

The tribunal of 600 outstanding sports leaders, polled annually to determine the winner of the award, gave Warmerdam a total of 1,101 votes, nearly twice as many as his closest rival.

Swimmer Is Second

Bill Smith, the Hawaiian swimming star now attending Ohio State university, was second in the balloting with 570 votes. Third went to Ed Hennig, the veteran Cleveland gymnast, with 317. Joe Smith, North Medford, Mass., marathon runner, placed fourth with 285, while Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Chapel Hill, N. C., golfer, was fifth with 184.

The field of five was selected by the Sullivan committee after the 41 district AAU associations had submitted names of candidates on the basis of sportsmanship, qualities of leadership, excellence of performance, strength of character, force of personality and high ideals of amateurism.

Warmerdam, a graduate of Fresno State college who competes for the San Francisco Olympic club, elevated the world pole vault records last season to heights which were thought impossible a few years ago. He boosted the outdoor mark to 15 feet, 7 1/2 inches and the indoor standard to 15 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

The Sullivan trophy probably will be presented to him during the national AAU indoor championships here in February.

Sugar Bowl

New Orleans, Dec. 31 (AP)—Big name track stars vie for cinder honors at City park this afternoon, clearing the Sugar bowl state for the ninth annual football classic which pits Tulsa's colorful Golden Hurricanes against the Tennessee Volunteers New Year's Day.

The Tulsa-Tennessee melee winds up a week of outstanding sports attractions in the first full-fledged wartime Sugar bowl carnival which included regatta and rowing races, the inter-city boxing tournament, tennis, an intercollegiate basketball game and a five event track program.

Little Bob Davies, former all America cage artist from Seton Hall paced the Great Lakes Bluejackets to a 57-41 win last night over a capable Stanford team that was good enough to win Pacific coast and National Collegiate basketball titles last season. The game was played before an overflow crowd of 5,000 in Tulane gymnasium.

President Joseph B. David of the Sugar bowl predicted a crowd of around 60,000 fans for the Tulsa-Tennessee football game, but said that around 20,000 seats remained unsold today.

Orange Bowl

Miami, Fla., Dec. 31 (AP)—"I hope the score is 60 to 59—with Boston college winning."

The guy behind the quotes is Denny Myers, Bluff coach of the B. C. Eagles—and the party on the short end of the score would be the University of Alabama, which B. C. meets in Miami's Orange bowl tomorrow afternoon.

Myers isn't the only one looking for a close game. Miami book-makers, who always come out with a profit margin, offered odds of 5 to 6, and take your choice. Boston college earlier was a 7 to 5 favorite, but a last-minute influx of Alabama money forced down the odds to an equivalent of even money. Bettors must risk $6 to make $5 if the team of their choice wins the ball game.

Cotton Bowl

Dallas, Dec. 31 (AP)—There won't be an all-America in the lot and a flock of folks will have to buy tickets between now and 1:15 p. m. tomorrow for 25,000 to be in the stands, but Cotton bowl backers still think they have the best of the New Year's football games—Texas vs. Georgia Tech.

As for the battle, there never was a game that looked closer. Betting odds now favor Tech 6 and 5 but it was expected they would be 5 and 6 and take your choice by tonight.

Rose Bowl

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 31 (AP)—If the Georgia-UCLA football skirmish tomorrow isn't one of the most exciting in the hallowed history of the Rose bowl 93,000 persons will feel they have been misled.

Coaches, players and the sideline observers are agreed it shapes up as a battle of powerful attacks. There is strong likelihood the game will turn into a free-scoring affair and those inclined to view it as such, also regard Georgia as the winner.

Players of both teams, engaging only in light drills, expressed confidence in the outcome. The Georgians said they looked for a typical wild west thriller and they felt they could top anything UCLA might set loose in the way of aerial fireworks. The Bruins, individually and collectively, bespeak confidence in their line to stop Frankie Sinkwich and Charlie Trippi on the ground and match Georgia pass for pass.

233 Cage Victories Against 13 Defeats

Schenectady, N. Y. (AP)—Here's a basketball coaching record that will stand up anywhere: 233 victories against 13 defeats.

It belongs to Sig Makofski, who recently started his 13th year as Mont Pleasant High School's hoop mentor.

Sig's teams have played the strongest quintets and have rolled to league and sectional titles with regularity. In the last four seasons, Makofski-coached teams have lost only two games and were undefeated for two years.

His poorest season was 1937-38 when he won 26 games and lost three.

Makofski's success formula? "Just give me a kid who has his heart in basketball!"

Bobo May Fight If His Eyes Are Okay

Philadelphia, Dec. 31 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Athletic commission will permit Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh heavyweight, to fight again in Pennsylvania if he produces a doctor's signed statement saying that he will "not go blind."

Bobo was barred from Pennsylvania rings last August, Leon Rains, commission chairman, said an examination has shown his "vision in one eye was entirely gone and the other affected."

After the negro fighter whipped Jack Walter at Columbus, O., Tuesday night, Rains said the suspension would be lifted if Bobo obtained a physician's assurance that his "vision is all right" and fighting would not blind him.

VACCINATIONS URGED

Philadelphia, Dec. 31 (AP)—Mass vaccination of Philadelphians against smallpox was urged today by Dr. Hubley R. Owen, city director of health, who said there was "great danger" that the disease would spread here from nearby areas where a total of 36 cases has been reported. "If a single case occurs in one of the big war plants here you can imagine the damage it would do to the war effort," Owen said, urging war workers "especially" to submit to vaccinations. "All Philadelphians who have been vaccinated in the last five or seven years should have it done immediately," he said.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—When you drop in for a talk with Jimmy Johnston, inevitably you wind up by listening . . . but there are worse ways to spend a dismal winter afternoon. . . . Johnston professes to be interested only in his own fighters — currently Heavyweights Freddie Fiducia and Adam Spencer — but he has seen most of the great ones and likes to talk about the difference between the old timers and modern ringmen and the different treatment they receive.

"Freddie Fiducia always trained over in Jersey City and he did pretty well; he gave Bob Pastor a couple of tough fights when Pastor was good," Jimmy explains. "Now I've brought him over here to Stillmans where I can keep an eye on him—soon as I heard Tony Galento was training for a comeback I got him clear out of Jersey—and he can lick any of these duration champions. . . . Just name one good heavyweight who's fighting now." The way Jimmy puts it, you're hard pressed for an answer, but you're allowed doubts, remembering how the little fellow with the hard hat used to talk about Joe Louis before Pastor or Abe Simon was going to fight the champ.

"I'm making a record to go to the boys overseas," the voice goes on, "comparing all the heavyweight champions from John L. Sullivan on down . . . I can do it, but you gotta remember they fought under different conditions. . . . I think if Louis fought Sullivan in Sullivan's time he wouldn't have had a chance. . . . Sullivan fought under prize ring rules; the trick then was to strike out and close your eyes and wrestle you down and fall on you. . . . then the seconds dragged you back to your corner and had a half minute to bring you around to toe the mark. . . . When Sullivan fought Jake Kilrain at Richburg, Mississippi, in 1889—I wasn't there, of course, but Bat Masterson was timekeeper and he told me about it—it was a hot July day and Kilrain's seconds were two 150-pounders, Mike Donovan and Charley Mitchell. . . . they kept picking Kilrain up and dragging him back to the corner for more than two hours and finally after 75 rounds they were all fagged out. . . . When Jake went down again Mitchell looked at him and said 'The hell with him' and Donovan said 'The hell with him, I'm not going to pick him up again,' and that's how the fight ended. . . . Kilrain was lying there waiting for them to grab him and he was so mad he wouldn't speak to them for years."

The rain kept pouring down and Margie Reagan, who used to be Jimmy's secretary, poked her head into the office to tell "Pop" the doctor said maybe she could start work again in six months. . . . "Those old timers really were tough — John Morrissey once fought with an ankle so bad they carried him into the ring," continued Jimmy. . . . "They used to run 20 miles twice a day and spend hours sparring. Now a fighter rides to the gym in a car with a chauffeur; if his sparring partners get rough, he fires them and when he's through working an hour or so he gets into the car again and rides off. . . . no wonder they're soft. . . . they can't hit, either; when have you seen a fighter with a black eye? The only black eyes you see in the Garden are on hockey players."

The voice started off on another angle. . . . "You know, I've always had intelligent heavyweights. . . . Pastor was a college man; Simon was being prepared for college and Fiducia graduated from East Side high school over in Newark. . . . Well, Pastor and Simon were smart enough to quit, and after hearing just so much, this listener was too.

effort," Owen said, urging war workers "especially" to submit to vaccinations. "All Philadelphians who have been vaccinated in the last five or seven years should have it done immediately," he said.

Declares Colleges And High Schools Can Teach Men Will To Win Spirit

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—Since the Army and Navy can't instill an "all out to win" attitude in a man who doesn't have it during the 25 or 30 weeks of training a soldier ordinarily gets, the high schools and colleges must take the preliminary steps by means of competitive athletics.

That, in brief, is the opinion expressed by Col. James E. Pixie, former athletic director and assistant to the president at George Washington university, at yesterday's meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic association. Pixie has represented the Army Air Force on committees drawing up a physical education program for schools and colleges under the auspices of the United States Office of Education.

He outlined these programs during the discussion of the NCAA resolution urging that the soldiers and sailors who soon will be in training at some 200 colleges should be allowed to take part along with ordinary undergraduates in intercollegiate athletics.

Army Needs Leaders
"Athletics teach that to go all out is the way to win, that you have to exert that last extra bit of strength and energy after you're all tired out. You can't fix that by nature in 25 or 30 weeks of training; you have to start competitive training in the formative period—in high school and college," said Pixie.

"The Army also needs leadership and experience shows that a higher percentage of those who take part in competitive athletics succeed as leaders than those who don't. Even the 'mouse' type, the quiet little fellows who blossom out as leaders in the Army, develop just as rapidly as a leader in sports when he's tossed into our air force physical program."

That, says Pixie, is where the school and college program comes in. It should be broad enough that everyone has a chance to develop these needed qualities. The high school program, requires every student to take five hours a week of physical training work during school hours plus ten hours of supplementary work, including competitive sports, long hikes, camping trips, etc. The college program still is in the formative stage and probably won't be ready for distribution for another month or more. Its general plan is to follow up the scholastic preliminaries, but the supplementary ten hours is recommended rather than required because of limited facilities at many colleges.

The Army Air Force requires one hour a day of athletic and physical training activities, Pixie added, and in advanced bases and combat areas this is almost entirely games and competitive activities. That's what fliers, who generally lead a sedentary life, need to preserve their stamina, agility and the toughness they must have to get back if they're shot down.

Game Commissioner Resigns; Ill Health

Carl W. S. Rothfuss, the third Williamsport member of the Pennsylvania Game commission to resign in less than six months, cited ill health as the reason for his retirement.

Named only on Dec. 9 by Governor James, Rothfuss had succeeded Harold Moltz, ousted by James without comment after serving only since August. Moltz had been appointed to the vacancy created by

Warmerdam, Stratospheric Pole Vaulter, Awarded James E. Sullivan Trophy

RECEIVES 1101 VOTES FROM 600 SPORTS LEADERS

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—Step up—away up—and meet the 1942 winner of the James E. Sullivan memorial trophy. He's stratospheric Cornelius Warmerdam, the California pole vaulter who put the world record where his rivals couldn't reach it without the help of a P-38.

Winning the award, given by the Amateur Athletic Union to the athlete selected as the one doing the most to advance the cause of sportsmanship each year, was as easy for the 27-year-old Piedmont, Calif., school teacher as clearing 15 feet in his favorite event.

The tribunal of 600 outstanding sports leaders, polled annually to determine the winner of the award, gave Warmerdam a total of 1,101 votes, nearly twice as many as his closest rival.

Swimmer Is Second
Bill Smith, the Hawaiian swimming star now attending Ohio State university, was second in the balloting with 570 votes. Third went to Ed Hennig, the veteran Cleveland gymnast, with 317. Joe Smith, North Medford, Mass., marathon runner, placed fourth with 285, while Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Chapel Hill, N. C., golfer, was fifth with 184.

The field of five was selected by the Sullivan committee after the 41 district AAU associations had submitted names of candidates on the basis of sportsmanship, qualities of leadership, excellence of performance, strength of character, force of personality and high ideals of amateurism.

Warmerdam, a graduate of Fresno State college who competes for the San Francisco Olympic club, elevated the world pole vault records last season to heights which were thought impossible a few years ago. He boosted the outdoor mark to 15 feet, 7 1/4 inches and the indoor standard to 15 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

The Sullivan trophy probably will be presented to him during the national AAU indoor championships here in February.

Sugar Bowl

New Orleans, Dec. 31 (AP)—Big name track stars vie for cinder honors at City park this afternoon, clearing the Sugar bowl slate for the ninth annual football classic which pits Tulsa's colorful Golden Hurricanes against the Tennessee Volunteers New Year's Day.

The Tulsa-Tennessee melee winds up a week of outstanding sports attractions in the first full-fledged wartime Sugar bowl carnival which included regatta and rowing races, the inter-city boxing tournament, tennis, an inter-sectional basketball game and a five event track program.

Little Bob Davies, former all America cage artist from Seton Hall paced the Great Lakes Bluejackets to a 57-41 win last night over a capable Stanford team that was good enough to win Pacific coast and National Collegiate basketball titles last season. The game was played before an overflow crowd of 5,000 in Tulane gymnasium.

President Joseph B. David of the Sugar bowl predicted a crowd of around 60,000 fans for the Tulsa-Tennessee football game, but said that around 20,000 seats remained unsold today.

Orange Bowl

Miami, Fla., Dec. 31 (AP)—"I hope the score is 69 to 59—with Boston college winning."

The guy behind the quotes is Denny Myers, bluff coach of the B. C. Eagles—and the party on the short end of the score would be the University of Alabama, which B. C. meets in Miami's Orange bowl tomorrow afternoon.

Myers isn't the only one looking for a close game. Miami book-makers, who always come out with a profit margin, offered odds of 5 to 6, and take your choice. Boston college earlier was a 7 to 5 favorite, but a last-minute influx of Alabama money forced down the odds to an equivalent of even money. Bettors must risk $6 to make $5 if the team of their choice wins the ball game.

Cotton Bowl

Dallas, Dec. 31 (AP)—There won't be an all-America in the lot and a flock of folks will have to buy tickets between now and 1:15 p. m. tomorrow for 25,000 to be in the stands, but Cotton bowl backers still think they have the best of the New Year's football games—Texas vs. Georgia Tech.

As for the battle, there never was a game that looked closer. Betting odds now favor Tech 6 and 5 but it was expected they would be 5 and 6 and take your choice by tonight.

Rose Bowl

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 31 (AP)—If the Georgia-UCLA football skirmish tomorrow isn't one of the most exciting in the hallowed history of the Rose bowl 93,000 persons will feel they have been misled.

Coaches, players and the sideline observers are agreed it shapes up as a battle of powerful attacks. There is strong likelihood the game will turn into a free-scoring affair and those inclined to view it as such also regard Georgia as the winner.

Players of both teams, engaging only in light drills, expressed confidence in the outcome. The Georgians said they looked for a typical wild west thriller and they felt they could top anything UCLA might set loose in the way of aerial fireworks. The Bruins, individually and collectively, bespoke confidence in their line to stop Frankie Sinkwich and Charlie Trippi on the ground and match Georgia pass for pass.

233 Cage Victories Against 13 Defeats

Schenectady, N. Y. (AP)—Here's a basketball coaching record that will stand up anywhere: 233 victories against 13 defeats.

It belongs to Sig Makofski, who recently started his 13th year as Mont Pleasant High School's hoop mentor.

Sig's teams have played the strongest quintets and have rolled to league and sectional titles with regularity. In the last four seasons, Makofski-coached teams have lost only two games and were undefeated for two years.

His poorest season was 1937-38 when he won 26 games and lost three.

Makofski's success formula? "Just give me a kid who has his heart in basketball!"

Bobo May Fight If His Eyes Are Okay

Philadelphia, Dec. 31 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Athletic commission will permit Harry Bobo, Pittsburgh heavyweight, to fight again in Pennsylvania if he produces a doctor's signed statement saying that he will "not go blind."

Bobo was barred from Pennsylvania rings last August. Leon Rains, commission chairman, said an examination has shown his "vision in one eye was entirely gone and the other affected."

After the negro fighter whipped Jack Walter at Columbus, O., Tuesday night, Rains said the suspension would be lifted if Bobo obtained a physician's assurance that his "vision is all right" and fighting would not blind him.

VACCINATIONS URGED

Philadelphia, Dec. 31 (AP)—Mass vaccination of Philadelphians against smallpox was urged today by Dr. Hubley R. Owen, city director of health, who said there was "great danger" that the disease would spread here from nearby areas where a total of 36 cases has been reported. "If a single case occurs in one of the big war plants here you can imagine the damage it would do to the war effort," Owen said, urging war workers "especially" to submit to vaccinations. "All Philadelphians who have been vaccinated in the last five or seven years should have it done immediately," he said.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—When you drop in for a talk with Jimmy Johnston, inevitably you wind up by listening . . . but there are worse ways to spend a dismal winter afternoon. . . . Johnston professes to be interested only in his own fighters — currently Heavyweights Freddie Fuducia and Adam Spencer — but he has seen most of the great ones and likes to talk about the difference between the old timers and modern ringmen and the different treatment they receive.

"Freddie Fuducia always trained over in Jersey City and he did pretty well; he gave Bob Pastor a couple of tough fights when Pastor was good," Jimmy explains. . . . "Now I've brought him over here to Stillmans where I can keep an eye on him—soon as I heard Tony Galento was training for a comeback I got him clear out of Jersey—and he can lick any of these duration champions. . . . just name one good heavyweight who's fighting now." . . . The way Jimmy puts it, you're hard pressed for an answer, but you're allowed doubts, remembering how the little fellow with the hard hat used to talk about Joe Louis before Pastor or Abe Simon was going to fight the champ.

"I'm making a record to go to the boys overseas," the voice goes on, "comparing all the heavyweight champions from John L. Sullivan on down. . . . I can do it, but you gotta remember they fought under different conditions. . . . I think if Louis fought Sullivan in Sullivan's time he wouldn't have had a chance. . . . Sullivan fought under prize ring rules; the trick then was to strike out and close your eyes and wrestle you down and fall on you. . . . then the seconds dragged you back to your corner and had a half minute to bring you around to toe the mark. . . . When Sullivan fought Jake Kilrain at Richmond, Mississippi, in 1889—I wasn't there, of course, but Bat Masterson was timekeeper and he told me about it—it was a hot July day and Kilrain's seconds were two 150-pounders, Mike Donovan and Charley Mitchell. . . . they kept picking Kilrain up and dragging him back to the corner for more than two hours and finally after 75 rounds they were all fagged out. . . . When Jake went down again Mitchell looked at him and said 'The hell with him' and Donovan said 'The hell with him, I'm not going to pick him up again,' and that's how the fight ended. . . . Kilrain was lying there waiting for them to grab him and he was so mad he wouldn't speak to them for years."

The rain kept pouring down and Margie Reagan, who used to be Jimmy's secretary, poked her head into the office to tell "Pop" the doctor said maybe she could start work again in six months. . . . "Those old timers really were tough — John Morrissey once fought with an ankle so bad they carried him into the ring," continued Jimmy. . . . "They used to run 20 miles twice a day and spend hours sparring. Now a fighter rides to the gym in a car with a chauffeur; if his sparring partners get rough, he fires them and when he's through working an hour or so he gets into the car again and rides off. . . . no wonder they're soft. . . . they can't hit, either; when have you seen a fighter with a black eye? The only black eyes you see in the Garden are on hockey players."

The voice started off on another angle. . . . "You know, I've always had intelligent heavyweights. . . . Pastor was a college man; Simon was being prepared for college and Fuducia graduated from East Side high school over in Newark."

Well, Pastor and Simon were smart enough to quit, and after hearing just so much, this listener was too.

Declares Colleges And High Schools Can Teach Men Will To Win Spirit

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—Since the Army and Navy can't instill an "all out to win" attitude in a man who doesn't have it during the 25 or 30 weeks of training a soldier ordinarily gets, the high schools and colleges must take the preliminary steps by means of competitive athletics.

That, in brief, is the opinion expressed by Col. James E. Pixlee has represented the Army Air Force on committees drawing up a physical education program for schools and colleges under the auspices of the United States Office of Education. ## Game Commissioner Resigns; Ill Health

Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 31 (AP)—Carl W. S. Rothfuss, the third Williamsport member of the Pennsylvania Game commission to resign in less than six months, cited ill health

as the reason for his retirement.

Named only on Dec. 9 by Governor James, Rothfuss had succeeded Harold Moltz, ousted by James without comment after serving only since August. Moltz had been appointed to the vacancy created by the resignation of Samuel C. Castner, Williamsport, also because of ill health. Rothfuss made his announcement last night.

Motor vehicles in Argentina are required to be equipped with speed governors to conserve gasoline.

dent to take five hours a week of physical training work during school hours plus ten hours of supplementary work, including competitive sports, long hikes, camping trips, etc. The college program still is in the formative stage and probably won't be ready for distribution for another month or more. Its general plan is to follow up the scholastic preliminaries, but the supplementary ten hours is recommended rather than required because of limited facilities at many colleges.

The Army Air Force requires one hour a day of athletic and physical training activities. Pixlee added, and in advanced bases and combat areas this is almost entirely games and competitive activities. That's what fliers, who generally lead a sedentary life, need to preserve their stamina, agility and the toughness they must have to get back if they're shot down.

DEATH OF 1942

On his death bed now he's lying.
Yes, the Old Year's surely dying.
Quick the pulse and growing quick-
er;
Scarce the weary eyelids flicker.
Done with all earth's care and sorrow,
He will not be here tomorrow.Let's not say the parting grieves us
As for history he leaves us.
Now that life is almost ended,
Much his record holds was splendid
For he brought us all together,
One, for every sort of weather.Day by day he drew us closer;
Banker, merchant, plumber, grocer,
Preacher, lawyer—all our people
Under Freedom's one great steeple.
All as one to stand united
Until every wrong is righted.Now to death he goes contented,
Seeing free men so cemented.
This his glory; his salvation:
That he brought to God a nation!
Close the door and draw the curtain:
Peace with victory now is certain.

TOO FAST AND TOO MUCH

Nothing is more interesting than growth—whether that growth be in a plant, tree, animal, bird, or human being. The growth in Nature is always orderly and according to natural law. Scientists and experimenters, are forever trying to improve on this process, but they only add a little to the looks of it all.Take many fruits, as an example.
Some of them are cultivated so big and "beautiful" that the delicious taste has disappeared. The juice all gone! Take the average mongrel dog and he will put the highly pedigreed to shame.The outstanding men of the world have been those who came up "the hard way." The original fortune maker knew the value of a dollar—
but not that one to whom it passed, as a general rule. Then, on the other hand, the one who has made that fortune too fast, and has gained too much recognition, he usually is the one who starts soon to slip down hill again, when ill luck, or misfortune faces him.No one can fool around with the natural laws of life, ignoring them,
and expect to go far, or to stay there when he thinks he has arrived.He who makes money too fast, and too much, never gets on intimate terms with it. It always remains something alien to him.Precocious children attract attention, but how many of them distinguish themselves in after life, add to the glory of the world, or to the advancement of humanity? The plodders will outstrip them every time! It's the average law that people obey, not the exceptional one.
They usually forget the latter—even if they have heard of it!One of the most difficult things in this life to keep, is success—especially when it comes too fast and is too much. When people grow step by step, as does the flower, there is beauty and great endurance to it.
Its memory, as well, endures!Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Summit."It has been estimated that nine billion board feet of lumber will be used in 1943 for boxing and crating war materials.New York school children have built nearly 60,000 wooden model aircraft for the Army and Navy pilot training program.

Thousands Are Made Homeless By Pittsburgh Flood

7500 PERSONS
ARE HOMELESS
IN ALLEGHENYPittsburgh, Dec. 31 (AP)—The worst flood since the disastrous $200,000,000 St. Patrick's Day high waters of 1936, reached a peak of 36.6 feet today at the junction of the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, 11.7 feet above flood stage.Thousands of persons were made homeless, street, rail and bus traffic was badly disrupted, numerous war busy plants beside the streams were paralyzed and many business firms had to close.The Red Cross reported it was caring for 7,500 destitute persons made homeless in Allegheny county alone.Only one death was reported however, in contrast to 80 in the 1936 disaster, when the rivers reached a crest of 46 feet here.Boats In Streets
The muddy waters surged into many streets of the steel city's downtown "golden triangle" district.
Rowboats were used in parts of Penn avenue, where the water ran a foot over the sidewalks at the Joseph Horne department store, its $1,000,000 flood gates, set up since 1936 kept the big store dry.W. S. Brotzman, U. S. weather forecaster, said the rivers' fall, starting at dawn, would be very slow. The streams were moving at the unusual rate of four miles an hour.Fitzwilliam Worcester, 20, of Wurthemburg, Pa., near New Castle, lost his life in swollen Slippery Rock creek while canoeing with a friend, John M. Caughey, Jr., 19, son of a pastor. The boat capsized. Caughey saved himself by grabbing a bridge support.Army engineers estimated that the level here was held down as much as three and one-half feet by a series of dams which have been built during the past five years.
While the flood stage of 25 feet has been exceeded more than 100 times since 1762, the 36.6 foot depth was the second highest since February, 1832, when the river went to 38 feet.Coal Barges Break
The hardest hit suburban points were Sharpsburg, Etna, and McKees Rocks. Police boats cruised in five-foot water through the main street of Sharpsburg.More than 30 empty steel barges, which carry 100 tons of coal each,
broke loose from docks of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation at Clairton, 20 miles up the Monongahela river above Pittsburgh. All were recaptured.One fortunate break for this "workshop of the world" district was the fact that the high waters came on the last two days of the year, when many plants and coal mines were expected to slow down for the New Year's holiday.Seawall Helps Fortunately, power companies servicing the area had prepared to withstand 40-foot flood levels and were therefore not seriously affected.
Neither was the giant works of the Aluminum Company of America at New Kensington, which is protected by a concrete seawall and a good pumping system.The workers in the steel mills did not take the break in production sitting down. Typical of the response to the emergency was a report from the National Tube works of the U. S. Steel corporation at McKeesport."We haven't lost a pound of production yet, but the boys have had to work like hell to keep out the water," said a company spokesman.birth of a son, Christmas morning.
George Amos Sachs, Edgewood arsenal, Baltimore, is spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. P.
Sachs, Hanover street.

Flashes of Life

FAMILY AFFAIR

New York (AP)—Persons in an Army recruiting and induction center were startled when a captain, having sworn in a pretty WAAC recruit, planted a big kiss on her face.The officer was Captain Joseph J. La Manna, the recruit Mrs. Edward Dissell, 24, dancer and swimmer who was under study to Eleanor Holm at the World's Fair
Aqueduct.Oh, yes—the new WAAC is Captain La Manna's daughter, Elean-nor.

Prince was enlisted in the Army, but he didn't want to leave home.It took two men to get him to the train.

FAITHFUL

Arkansas City, Kas. (AP)—C.
Ward Bayles is beginning his 28th year of perfect Sunday School attendance.Bayles, 39, once had trouble finding a Protestant church while touring in New York state, but he made it. And another time he waded Kansas snowdrifts to find only two persons at church—the preacher and himself.MARTIN EAGER TO CUT TAXESHarrisburg, Dec. 31 (AP)—Governor-Elect Edward Martin declares
he is as anxious as anyone to cut Pennsylvania taxes but a decision on this must await studies now underway.Making known his views at a press conference yesterday, Martin said "I appreciate fully the tax burden the people are now carrying,"
and if the tax reduction is possible,
it will be undertaken at the legislative session opening next Tuesday.He disclosed one group "is looking into retrenchment in departments, bureaus and commissions, especially welfare, education and highways," while another is "working on tax reduction." He added it should be known by the end of January whether there will be a tax cut.Martin said the "economic practice of the present administration" will be continued. Governor James,
when he retires, will leave the budget in balance and will pass on a
"bookkeeping surplus" of $71,000,000 to the incoming governor. This surplus represents the elimination of a deficit for that amount which James says he inherited from the previous democratic administration.Before Martin made his statement, M. Harvey Taylor, republican state chairman, said "we don't anticipate very much reduction in taxes." Taylor said this after GOP leaders headed by Lieutenant Governor-Elect John C. Bell reported indications of a $60,000,000 decline in tax receipts in the next biennium.A new wooden bus trailer, used in Washington, to carry war workers, holds 141 persons and weighs less than a standard 40-passenger bus.RENO TO SEEK COURT AID IN
PAYROLL ISSUEHarrisburg, Dec. 31 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Republican attorney general declares he is ready to go to the courts for a writ of mandamus should Democratic Auditor General
P. Clair Ross hold up the payroll of 500 state employees as he said he will do.Ross notified Revenue Secretary Dr. Edward B. Logan yesterday that he was delaying the payroll of all Revenue department employees, involving a sum of $45,000 for the last half of December, until he received certain requested information. The payroll is due today.Attorney General Claude T. Reno, to whom Logan referred inquirers, said "If General Ross persists in holding up the payroll we will be obliged to apply to Dauphin county court for a writ of mandamus."

Logan's Charges

The information sought by Ross,
it was explained by John F. Breslin, his executive assistant, concerns revenue employees working outside main Harrisburg office. Ross wants a list giving their names, showing

their duties and territories covered.

Breslin said the information was necessary for "certain inquiries" the department is making. He added
"since this information has been denied by the Department of Revenue the investigations will be hindered, but will, nevertheless, be conducted." He asserted payrolls will be withheld until the list is received.Earlier, Dr. Logan replied to charges made by Ross over the week-end that $1,000,000 in bonds covering revenue employees had been found defectively executed by the auditor general.He asserted that Ross' statement to the papers was "one-sided and inaccurate" and that bonds of employees are "in good shape and commonwealth funds are adequately protected."Today Is Somebody's

GIRAUD NABS 12 IN PLOT

You are giving a great deal of importance to something that isn't worth it."

Calls for Unity

Giraud took advantage of the occasion to call for unity of all Frenchmen, including the Fighting French led by General Charles De Gaulle.

"To me, there is but one enemy—that is the Germans," Giraud said. "On the day when all Frenchmen unite, whether they are those serving with General De Gaulle, those who are prisoners of Germany, those in France or those in North Africa—that day we will be shown victory."

"I told Marshal Petain when I arrived in Vichy on April 29 that France had only one way out of the mess she was in. That was to join America. I say that same thing now."

"What I did yesterday," Giraud said, referring to the arrests, "was merely a question of doing some interior cleaning and it would only be exciting passions to give great importance to a matter which is entirely French. Therefore the names of the arrested are being withheld."

One Idea—Win the War

"I have only one idea—to win the war. For that I must have order without considering in any way the politics of one person or another."

When told that the political situation in North Africa had caused a storm of controversy and asked why Darlan's slayer had been subjected to a summary court martial, which condemned him to quick death, Giraud replied:

"It was certain that the murderer did kill Darlan. I punish murderers in the way they should be punished. There you are."

Preventive Measures

"That is why, being in command and having received the commission, I took certain preventive measures in order to prevent a recurrence of such events as the tragic one a week ago. It is better to prevent than to punish."

Referring to Darlan's slayer, the high commissioner said he thought it "pitiful that there should be such a fuss over one man rightfully shot when hundreds of soldiers are killed every day at the front—especially when this young man could have joined the army and gone to fight with the others."

The Algiers press avoided any reference to the arrests. The press conference with the high commissioner was arranged after correspondence had requested information on rumors circulating in the city. The conference was held in a church school building which has been converted into a military office.

Sure of Victory

Turning to the military situation, Giraud said he was "sure of victory, but I believe we all must make the most serious efforts to earn that victory."

Giraud then made the following informal statement:

"Gentlemen of the press, you have a great duty to perform. In your countries you have armies which are to fight, but can only do so when armed in the modern manner. You must say to America that the French Army is waiting impatiently for the equipment which you promised us."

"I saw too frequently in 1940 what it means to fight with antiquated armament against an enemy who has superior arms."

"When I entered Holland with the army I was commanding we had only 31 planes against an enemy with 200. We put up a good show in Holland, but our losses were heavy because we had no anti-aircraft or anti-tank guns."

French Want to Fight

"When I was called to the Meuse I found it even worse. The poor devils there had no modern equipment at all."

"Write that in your newspapers. The French Army wishes to fight. For the past month that has been shown in Tunisia. But we must have as soon as possible planes, tanks, anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns. I assure you that from the first soldier to the last that Army will show what it is capable of doing. I think the Allied armies which sent us what little equipment they could. That is only the beginning."

"The real play is about to begin and the actors must be properly equipped."

"There you are. I'm counting on you telling that to America and that the high commissioner of French Africa is above all a soldier who thinks of one thing only—to win the war. Help me to win it."

Giraud was asked if civil officials appointed by Pierre Laval, arch-collaborationist, were still holding their jobs in North Africa. He answered: "I don't think so and one should not believe everything he hears in Algiers."

Germans Took Medals

At the end of the conference, another correspondent asked Giraud why he was not wearing any ribbons signifying decorations. His grim answer was:

"I don't wear my ribbons because the Germans stole them from me. The Germans stole my war crosses and medals. I shall wear none until we are victorious and I enter Metz."

Confederacy — ?

Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 31 (AP)—A defiantly snorted rebel yell came today from Governor Sam Jones, of Louisiana, with a demand the government reverse an edict that the state must collect the new victory tax from pensions paid its few remaining Confederate soldiers.

Jones thundered that if Washington officials consider the state payments to the score of Civil war veterans still alive as remuneration for services received—why, then, he, they recognize the services as legal and should agree to reinstate them of the South's Confederacy, even pay the Confederates from the federal treasury.

MANY HOMELESS DUE TO FLOODS

(By The Associated Press)

Swirling flood waters in the wake of five-day rains and melting snow left thousands homeless in Pennsylvania today and paralyzed numerous war plants.

One death was reported in the Pittsburgh area which faced its worst flood since the disastrous $200,000,000 St. Patrick's day high waters of 1936.

That steel-making district was listed as the principal danger spot by Governor James' Emergency Disaster committee although it warned further difficulty also may be encountered along the Susquehanna in the central and eastern part of the state.

Committee Chairman G. Albert Stewart, however, predicted most of Pennsylvania will be "reasonably clear of further serious flood danger."

Flood Conditions Improved

"Flood conditions generally are greatly improved this morning," he declared. "The rain and snow have stopped falling and a cold wind is blowing. Many points reported temperatures of freezing or below. The waters have crested at several stations and are approaching crest at all others."

"Some families have left their homes in low lying sections but no serious emergency has been reported to the committee. With the exception of Pittsburgh and a few other sections of western Pennsylvania, it is expected that conditions will be approaching normal by the end of the day."

Muddy waters surged into many streets of Pittsburgh's downtown "Golden Triangle" as a peak of 36.6 feet was reached at the junction of the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, 11.7 feet above flood stage.

Street, rail and bus traffic was badly disrupted with rowboats being used in some areas. The Red Cross said it was caring for 7,500 destitute persons made homeless in Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county alone. Fitz William Worcester, 20, of Wurmthumberg, near New Castle, lost his life in swollen slippery Rock creek while canoeing with a friend.

Wide stretches of lowlands were flooded in eastern Pennsylvania and householders had to be evacuated in some communities. Rivers generally were believed cresting throughout the area.

The north branch of the raging Susquehanna reached a stand in the New York headwaters and was falling as far down as Towanda where it crested at 23 feet, seven above flood level. Headquarters of the west branch crested at 11.1 at Clearfield, nearly a foot above flood stage.

Stewart said Williamsport and Sunbury were not entirely out of danger.

Twenty families were evacuated from riverfront sections of Williamsport as the Susquehanna overflowed its banks to reach a stage of 22.9 feet, three feet over flood level.

Hebert A. Tait, 49, instructor in the flood threatened Williamsport Technical Institute, died of a heart attack after hours of labor clearing the school of precision tools.

The river swelled to 17.1 feet, one above flood level, at Sunbury with a crest of 19 forecast. Wilkes-Barre recorded a stage of 27.4 with the local flood control office predicting 30 feet probably in 24 hours. Narrows road between Kingston and Plymouth was ordered closed as water crept over the highway.

Western Maryland

birthday next March 15th. His seniority rights with the Western Maryland date back to May 18, 1881. He was subject to retirement at the age of 65, eleven years ago, but he has declined to even think of retiring and proposes to "stay in harness many more years."

With the abandonment of W.M. passenger service here locomotives and passenger cars used on the run between Gettysburg and Baltimore will go into war service, an official announced. The locomotives will be sent to the Boston and Maine railway company to replace freight locomotives that are now in service on passenger runs. The Boston and Maine company is short of passenger locomotives.

The coaches used on the local run will be turned into the railway pool for use in transporting troops, a shortage of which now exists.

Freight Center

While passenger service ceases here today Gettysburg remains one of the vital freight centers of the Western Maryland, an official stated. More freight passes through the local yards now than ever before in the history of the company. The Times learned from an authoritative source.

Loss of the passenger service is keenly felt by veteran railway men but local citizens, as in other communities along the run, have long ceased to use the service to any great extent.

There was a time when nine passenger trains arrived in and left Gettysburg every day including several fast, through-trains. There was at one time sleeper and pullman service out of this community and there was an occasion when seventeen trains arrived in Gettysburg in one day and carried 13,000 passengers.

There was a time when passenger revenue totaled $60,000 per month. But that revenue has dwindled to such an extent in recent years that one month the revenue totaled only $24,600.

But, with the advent of the automobile passenger patronage and revenue declined until the company reached the point where its daily loss from this service was too great to warrant continuance. Then, too, the Office of Defense Transportation has ordered curtailment and abandonment of service where revenue no longer justifies its continuance . . . and the shortage of equipment for troop movements was another reason for requesting permission to discontinue service.

So today the Western Maryland closes its passenger service. The final run was dignified by the presence of high railway officials. And the last train also carried the General Manager's private car.

The crew of the last train included:

George W. Kelley, engineer; P. R. Arnold, fireman; George W. Hardesty, conductor; T. T. Lankford, brakeman, and E. L. Cook, baggageman.

Five Japanese Barges Destroyed

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—American Air Forces battered away at Japanese ground installations and barges northwest of Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, the Navy reported today.

In a communique, the Navy said that the air forces had made "several harassing attacks" on enemy installations in the Munda area of New Georgia island, and later destroyed five enemy barges, a large caliber enemy gun, and bombed and strafed float type planes in the Rekabota bay area of Santa Isabel island, approximately 150 nautical miles northwest of Henderson airfield on Guadalcanal.

Participating in the repeated attacks were Catalina patrol bombers, Airacobra and Wildcat fighters and Dauntless dive bombers with Wildcat escorts.

The warrant was served on him in jail where he is being held in default of bond on a charge of turning out his lights to avoid identification. DEATH OF 1942

On his death bed now he's lying.
Yes, the Old Year's surely dying.
Quick the pulse and growing quick-
er;
Scarce the weary eyelids flicker.
row,
He will not be here tomorrow.

Let's not say the parting grieves us
As for history he leaves us.
Now that life is almost ended,
Much his record holds was splendid
For he brought us all together,
One, for every sort of weather.

Day by day he drew us closer;
Banker, merchant, plumber, grocer,
Preacher, lawyer—all our people
Under Freedom's one great steeple.
All as one to stand united
Until every wrong is righted.

Now to death he goes contented,
Seeing free men so cemented.
This his glory; his salvation:
That he brought to God a nation!
Close the door and draw the curtain:
Peace with victory now is certain.

By George Matthew Adams

TOO FAST AND TOO MUCH

Nothing is more interesting than growth—whether that growth be in a plant, tree, animal, bird, or human being. The growth in Nature is always orderly and according to natural law. Scientists and experimenters, are forever trying to improve on this process, but they only add a little to the looks of it all.

Take many fruits, as an example. Some of them are cultivated so big and "beautiful" that the delicious taste has disappeared. The juice all gone! Take the average mongrel dog and he will put the highly pedigreed to shame.

The outstanding men of the world have been those who came up "the hard way." The original fortune maker knew the value of a dollar—but not that one to whom it passed, as a general rule. Then, on the other hand, the one who has made that fortune too fast, and has gained too much recognition, he usually is the one who starts soon to slip down hill again, when ill luck, or misfortune faces him.

No one can fool around with the natural laws of life, ignoring them, and expect to go far, or to stay there when he thinks he has arrived.

He who makes money too fast, and too much, never gets on intimate terms with it. It always remains something alien to him.

Precocious children attract attention, but how many of them distinguish themselves in after life, add to the glory of the world, or to the advancement of humanity? The plodders will outstrip them every time! It's the average law that people obey, not the exceptional one. They usually forget the latter—even if they have heard of it!

One of the most difficult things in this life to keep, is success—especially when it comes too fast and is too much. When people grow step by step, as does the flower, there is beauty and great endurance to it. Its memory, as well, endures!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Summit."

It has been estimated that nine billion board feet of lumber will be used in 1943 for boxing and crating war materials.

New York school children have built nearly 60,000 wooden model aircraft for the Army and Navy pilot training program.

Thousands Are Made Homeless By Pittsburgh Flood

7500 PERSONS ARE HOMELESS IN ALLEGHENY

Pittsburgh, Dec. 31 (AP)—The worst flood since the disastrous $200,000,000 St. Patrick's Day high waters of 1936, reached a peak of 36.6 feet today at the junction of the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, 11.7 feet above flood stage.

Thousands of persons were made homeless, street, rail and bus traffic was badly disrupted, numerous war busy plants beside the streams were paralyzed and many business firms had to close.

The Red Cross reported it was caring for 7,500 destitute persons made homeless in Allegheny county alone.

Only one death was reported however, in contrast to 80 in the 1936 disaster, when the rivers reached a crest of 46 feet here.

Boats In Streets

The muddy waters surged into many streets of the steel city's downtown "golden triangle" district. Rowboats were used in parts of Penn avenue, where the water ran a foot over the sidewalks at the Joseph Horne department store. Its $1,000,000 flood gates, set up since 1936 kept the big store dry.

W. S. Brotzman, U. S. weather forecaster, said the rivers' fall, starting at dawn, would be very slow. The streams were moving at the unusual rate of four miles an hour.

Pittsford Worcester, 20, of Wurthemburg, Pa., near New Castle, lost his life in swollen Slippery Rock creek while canoeing with a friend, John M. Caughey, Jr., 19, son of a pastor. The boat capsized. Caughey saved himself by grabbing a bridge support.

Army engineers estimated that the level here was held down as much as three and one-half feet by a series of dams which have been built during the past five years.

While the flood stage of 25 feet has been exceeded more than 100 times since 1922, the 36.6 foot depth was the second highest since February, 1932, when the river went to 38 feet.

Coal Barges Break

The hardest hit suburban points were Sharpsburg, Etna, and McKees Rocks. Police boats cruised in five-foot water through the main street of Sharpsburg.

More than 30 empty steel barges, which carry 100 tons of coal each, broke loose from docks of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation at Clairton, 20 miles up the Monongahela river above Pittsburgh. All were recaptured.

One fortunate break for this "workshop of the world" district was the fact that the high waters came on the last two days of the year, when many plants and coal mines were expected to slow down for the New Year's holiday.

Seawall Helps

Fortunately, power companies servicing the area had prepared to withstand 40-foot flood levels and were therefore not seriously affected. Neither was the giant works of the Aluminum Company of America at New Kensington, which is protected by a concrete seawall and a good pumping system.

The workers in the steel mills did not take the break in production sitting down. Typical of the response to the emergency was a report from the National Tube works of the U. S. Steel corporation at McKeesport.

"We haven't lost a pound of production yet, but the boys have had to work like hell to keep out the water," said a company spokesman.

birth of a son, Christmas morning. George Amos Sachs, Edgewood arsenal, Baltimore, is spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sachs, Hanover street.

Flashes of Life

FAMILY AFFAIR

New York (AP)—Persons in an Army recruiting and induction center were startled when a captain, having sworn in a pretty WAAC recruit, planted a big kiss on her face.

The officer was Captain Joseph J. La Manna, the recruit Mrs. Edward Dissell, 24, dancer and swimmer who was understudy to Eleanor Holm at the World's Fair Aquacade.

On, yes—the new WAAC is Captain La Manna's daughter, Eleanor.

HUSKY

Denver (AP)—Prince, Jack Bernstein's German shepherd, should be tough enough for the Army.

A tavern watchdog for years, Prince was enlisted in the Army, but he didn't want to leave home. It took two men to get him to the train.

CRUSADERS

St. Joseph, Mo. (AP)—Then there's the NSDUNSPH.

Glenn E. Smith is national president of this fee-less new organization—the National Society to Discourage the Use of the Name Smith for Purposes of Hypothetical Illustration.

The slogan, addressed mostly to public speakers and authors: "When you think of Smith, say John Doe."

The members are all named Smith.

FAITHFUL

Arkansas City, Kas. (AP)—C Ward Bayles is beginning his 28th year of perfect Sunday School attendance.

Bayles, 39, once had trouble finding a Protestant church while touring in New York state, but he made it. And another time he waded Kansas snowdrifts to find only two persons at church—the preacher and himself.

MARTIN EAGER TO CUT TAXES

Harrisburg, Dec. 31 (AP)—Governor-Elect Edward Martin declares he is as anxious as anyone to cut Pennsylvania taxes but a decision on this must await studies now underway.

Making known his views at a press conference yesterday, Martin said "I appreciate fully the tax burden the people are now carrying" and if the tax reduction is possible, it will be undertaken at the legislative session opening next Tuesday.

He disclosed one group "is looking into retrenchment in departments, bureaus and commissions, especially welfare, education and highways," while another is "working on tax reduction." He added it should be known by the end of January whether there will be a tax cut.

Martin said the "economic practice of the present administration" will be continued. Governor James, when he retires, will leave the budget in balance and will pass on a "bookkeeping surplus" of $71,000,000 to the incoming governor. This surplus represents the elimination of a deficit for that amount which James says he inherited from the previous democratic administration.

Before Martin made his statement, M. Harvey Taylor, republican state chairman, said "we don't anticipate very much reduction in taxes." Taylor said this after GOP leaders headed by Lieutenant Governor-Elect John C. Bell reported indications of a $60,000,000 decline in tax receipts in the next biennium.

A new wooden bus trailer, used in Washington, to carry war workers, holds 141 persons and weighs less than a standard 40-passenger bus.

RENO TO SEEK COURT AID IN PAYROLL ISSUE

Harrisburg, Dec. 31 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Republican attorney general declares he is ready to go to the courts for a writ of mandamus should Democratic Auditor General P. Clair Ross hold up the payroll of 500 state employees as he said he will do.

Ross notified Revenue Secretary Dr. Edward B. Logan yesterday that he was delaying the payroll of all Revenue department employees, involving a sum of $45,000 for the last half of December, until he received certain requested information. The payroll is due today.

Attorney General Claude T. Reno, to whom Logan referred inquirers, said "if General Ross persists in holding up the payroll we will be obliged to apply to Dauphin county court for a writ of mandamus."

Logan's Charges

The information sought by Ross, it was explained by John F. Breslin, his executive assistant, concerns revenue employees working outside main Harrisburg office. Ross wants a list giving their names, showing their duties and territories covered.

Breslin said the information was necessary for "certain inquiries" the department is making. He added "since this information has been denied by the Department of Revenue the investigations will be hindered, but will, nevertheless, be conducted." He asserted payrolls will be withheld until the list is received.

Earlier, Dr. Logan replied to charges made by Ross over the week-end that $1,000,000 in bonds covering revenue employees had been found defectively executed by the auditor general.

He asserted that Ross' statement to the papers was "one-sided and inaccurate" and that bonds of employees are "in good shape and commonwealth funds are adequately protected."

AFRICANS NEED FOOD, CLOTHES

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—Hunger among the civilians of north Africa threatens to hamper military operations and there may be "serious disturbances" unless substantial shipments of food and clothing are landed there by February 1.

That was the word brought back by Milton S. Eisenhower, associate director of the Office of War Information and brother of Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who returned Sunday from a two-week visit in north Africa.

His account, as related at a press conference yesterday:

Poverty and hunger are such that serious trouble, "which I think might seriously hamper the military operations," can be expected in the civilian population—unless there is American aid.

"You see people who are naked, who are dressed only in a dirty loin cloth. They look hungry, and I understand this situation has prevailed for a long time."

Some lend-lease shipments have arrived, but the flow must increase. It is impossible to buy anything, even trinkets, with stores closed and boarded up.

"Germany took everything it could out of France, so the Vichy government requisitioned all it could

What can I do to help NATIONAL DEFENSE?

FIRST, you can get well—and keep well! What has that to do with National Defense? A great deal. Today, a nation's first defense is Health. Your country needs your best, which you cannot give if you are ill. So your first move is toward the office of a good Physician. Enlist his active cooperation; heed his experienced counsel. Then, permit us to compound the prescription he gives you.

AFRICANS NEED FOOD, CLOTHES

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—Hunger among the civilians of north Africa threatens to hamper military operations and there may be "serious disturbances" unless substantial shipments of food and clothing are landed there by February 1.

That was the word brought back by Milton S. Eisenhower, associate director of the Office of War Information and brother of Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who returned Sunday from a two-week visit in north Africa.

His account, as related at a press conference yesterday:

Poverty and hunger are such that serious trouble, "which I think might seriously hamper the military operations," can be expected in the civilian population—unless there is American aid.

"You see people who are naked, who are dressed only in a dirty loin cloth. They look hungry, and I understand this situation has prevailed for a long time."

Some lend-lease shipments have arrived, but the flow must increase. It is impossible to buy anything, even trinkets, with stores closed and boarded up.

"Germany took everything it could out of France, so the Vichy government requisitioned all it could
